

AMY MILLER

Amy Miller is an international dance teacher and choreographer. Her dance background started in Fresno, California where she competed and won multiple national dance titles. She toured as an assistant on a national dance convention as well as performed and held the role of Dance Captain aboard Holland America Cruise Lines under Stiletto Entertainment. Amy continued her professional dance career as an NBA Sacramento Kings Royal Court Dancer. Working in an outreach program, The Juline Foundation for Children, gave her opportunities to educate hundreds of individuals through a six-week dance curriculum culminating in an end of session dance show. Amy worked for the company USA (United Spirit Association) hosting and teaching multiple dance camps as well as instructing and mentoring staff members. Not only has she judged on USA's regional and national competition judging panels, she has also judged for Champion Tours and Events, Crowd Pleasers Dance, and Thunderstruck Dance Productions. From professional, collegiate, and studio dance teams, her choreography has won accolades including Excellence in All-Around Choreography, Performance Plus, and Most Entertaining. An absolute joy for Amy is sharing her passion of art while building dancers to become their personal best!
